'JOCK'S WAGGIN' TONGUE

Vol. 5 Thurs., Sept. 4 No. 35
Jock McIntyre, Editor

We saw a sign in a restaurant the other day—"Frank keeps this place. This place keeps Frank." That's a pleasant sort of a fifty-fifty proposition. It is a good deal the same way with this business of ours. So far we have managed to keep it, and so far it has kept us pretty average busy. But folks let us say again that we want to be "Your Hardware merchants," and assure you that this business is going to be just as good as you make it. We want to serve YOU.

Art Roberts, the big oil man from the south was in town the other day and was he happy? Art said they had struck oil.

Make our store your battery headquarters, our stock is always fresh, giving you the service to which you are entitled and that goes for telephone, radio, flashlight and car batteries.

Bruce and Fred Alder were week-end visitors in the district.

Let us quote you prices on that paint job you are expecting to do. Flow Easy paint prices are exceptionally low just now.

Sid Thompson was a Champion visitor the other day. Come around often Sid, we are glad to see you.

Hunting season for ducks will be Sept. 15 and Hungarians on October 1, and there is no use of you going anywhere but to our store for your hunting supplies. Our stock of shells is complete from 10 to 410 gauge. Prices are right, too.

"We are going over to give the bride a shower."
"Good. Count me in. I'll bring the soap."

When you buy Beatty pumps and cylinders you are assured of first line quality and your equipment will never become an orphan. We carry a full line of parts right here.

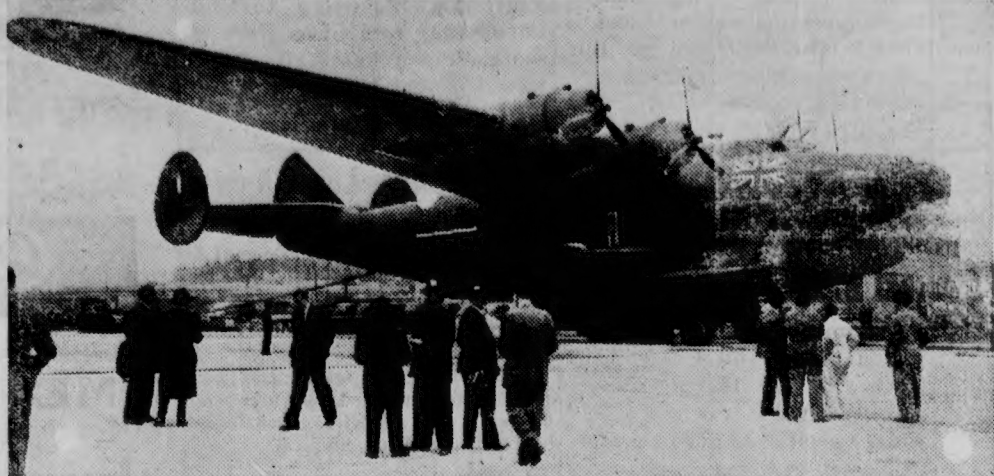

Cop: Don't you know what I mean when I hold out my hand?
Old Lady: I ought to, I was a school teacher for thirty years.

A NEW CIVIL AIR LINER FOR BRITAIN

The new Boeing flying boat "Bristol", which has been completed for the British Overseas Airways, is seen here at La Guardia airfield, New York, prior to her delivery flight.

"Aluminum for Victory" is Slogan in Red Cross Drive for Metal Scrap

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, Director of the Office of Civilian Defence, declared that the national aluminum scrap campaign just concluded was "an extraordinary demonstration of the determination of the American people to get behind the defence programme."

Mayor LaGuardia cited the extraordinary co-operation accorded the Office of Production Management and the Office of Civilian Defence by patriotic organizations, fraternal societies and civic groups, as well as the public officials of states, cities, towns and villages as evidence of the people's determination to achieve success in the defence programme.

"From thousands of towns, villages, and cities in every section of the United States," Mayor LaGuardia said, "the response to the campaign was magnificent. Not less than a million volunteer workers in all walks of life participated in the campaign."

Mayor LaGuardia said preliminary reports reaching his office of the conduct of the campaign indicated that the people generally only awaited the opportunity to demonstrate their willingness to exert every effort for defense.

"It was a revealing answer to the sceptics who insisted that the people were apathetic to the defence programme," Mayor LaGuardia said.

He particularly praised the co-operation of newspapers, magazines, radio stations and all other media of public information for their generous support and co-operation.

Canada's national drive for scrap aluminum is now in the forming. The dates set are — Ontario and Quebec, September 5 and 6; Manitoba, Alberta, and Saskatchewan, September 12 and 13; the Maritime Provinces and British Columbia, September 19 and 20.

"I am confident that Canada will show as good results as the United States," said Mr. Knightly, National Salvage Supervisor. The national drive is being sponsored by the Red Cross throughout the whole Dominion who are asking our citizens to contribute all forms of worn out and discarded aluminum. The material will be immediately released for war industries and the value of the material will be a direct contribution to the funds of the Red Cross Society who are providing comforts for our fighting forces, civilian victims of enemy action, and prisoners of war in enemy occupied territory.

Therefore, the contributions of scrap aluminum fulfil a twofold purpose. They will increase the flow of scrap to war industries and at the same time be a contribution to the humanitarian work of the Red Cross. Make sure you make your contribution.

Freak Fruit Tree Grows in Orchard of M. G. Clever

Growing in the orchard of M. G. Clever is a freak fruit tree. Planted as a plum tree, it is bearing both plums and cherries as fruit. It was planted just as it came from the nursery at Brooks supposedly as an ordinary plum tree. While most off the branches have leaves of the ordinary plum tree there are two branches coming from the same root stock bearing the leaves of a cherry tree.

Full growth fruit of both kinds has been picked from the tree the past few days.

Mr. Clever states there has been no grafting of any kind done to the tree.

The Weather

Harvesting, which was brought to a halt a week and a half ago by rains, started again on Wednesday afternoon in some areas locally and became general Thursday.

Rainfall for the period Thursday, August 21 to Thursday, September 4, was .05 inches.

Good winds the past few days helped dry the fields.

Champion Golfers Play and Place in Foothills Tourney

Jock McIntyre, George Orr and Joe Mark journeyed to Stavley Sunday to take part in the Foothills golf tournament held over the holiday week-end.

Jock brought honor to the Champion club by having the low net in the qualifying round. For this achievement he was presented with a fine golf sweater. George was unfortunate enough to make a good score in the qualifying round so had to play against a great handicap in the first flight. Joe, who could only take part in the Sunday rounds, enjoyed his first experience in competition play. Jock was knocked out in the semi finals of the championship flight.

Third Anniversary of Canada's War Entry Next Week

Wednesday, September 10, will mark the beginning of the third year of Canada's participation in the war.

In acknowledgment of that fact the government, by proclamation, is setting aside the period September, 10-17 as a week to "honor our men in uniform and re-dedicate ourselves to the service of our country and our cause."

The provincial governments, mayors, service and other clubs, churches and schools are all being asked to lead their assistance in making this week one of real national significance. The radio and the motion picture industry have already promised their full support.

The following is the wording of the proclamation:

"WHEREAS on the tenth day of September, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine, the Dominion of Canada declared a State of War with the German Reich; AND WHEREAS at the beginning of the third year of this war the leaders of democracy have re-affirmed their determination to continue the struggle until the evil of Nazi tyranny has been destroyed; NOW KNOW YE that We, by and with the advice of our Privy Council for Canada, have thought fit to ordain and declare and do by this Our Proclamation ordain and declare that the week commencing Wednesday the 10th of September and ending on Wednesday the 17th of September inclusively, in the present year, be observed throughout our Dominion of Canada in national honour for those who on land, sea and in the air are the defenders of our country, and in proud memory for those valiant hearts who have gone out from among us in the most precious of all sacrifices for our common freedom; AND KNOW YE FURTHER that We do also hereby ordain and declare this week as one of reconsecration of our lives and principles which under Divine Providence have been our stay and help in the past, to the end that torment may be lifted from men's hearts and peace and safety come for all nations and peoples; OF ALL WHICH Our Loving Subjects and all others whom these presents may concern are hereby required to take notice and govern themselves accordingly."

IMPORTANT NOTICE

As a gesture of appreciation to those of the districts which this paper serves who are enlisted in the armed forces, a paid up subscription is given. This means that a copy of the paper is sent direct each week to any soldier, sailor, airman or nurse on service in Canada or overseas whose names are on record at this office. We are now renewing and revising this list and we wish all those who have relatives in the services to bring in or mail the correct and full address within the next few days. This applies to those who are now on the list as well as any who have joined up since the list was first made.

TIT FOR TAT

Can you imagine the district between Calgary and Lethbridge without a town or village in it? Think, for a moment, of the inconvenience, the hardship, the loneliness such a situation would entail.

Yet that would be the situation in any rural area if all the retail businesses in small towns were to close up. The life of any town depends upon the life of the retail businessmen in that town. And the life of any retail business depends upon the support of the people of the community it aims to serve.

With the constant development of transportation facilities the country is brought closer to the city and some people are inclined to take advantage of this fact in making some of their purchases in the city. While some purchases in the cities and by mail may be necessary, it should be a rule for anyone living in a rural district to spend every dollar and cent possible in their own home town.

Part of every dollar spent locally stays in town and circulates. Every dollar spent out of town is gone forever.

Of course prices are slightly higher in some instances locally than in the distant city. But, when one adds everything up—the extra trouble of buying in the city, freight and transportation, over buying, and no local merchant to stand behind purchases and guarantee satisfaction, and often carry the purchase on his books for some time—there is really no saving.

The more money you spend in your town the better your town will be. Having larger turnovers the stores will carry wider varieties of goods; competition will be keener and prices will be kept at the lowest possible minimum.

Spend every cent you can at home. Think what your town would be without any retail businesses.

OIL IN THE DISTRICT

Last Saturday we afternoon visited the Keho Dome oil well property and witnessed for the first time the process of drilling for oil. Mr. A. S. Roberts, of Barons, took us around and explained things to us. The well is now down about 2000 feet and on Saturday there was a showing of gas and oil. From what Mr. Roberts said prospects are good for bringing in a well at about 3500 feet. We certainly hope this is so and that it will be a good producer. The same geologic structure is reputed to extend from south of Barons to Vulcan and passing through Carmangay and Champion. A successful well at Keho Dome would probably cause developments all along this line.

Carmangay Local News

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Kathryn Hardy left Wednesday on an extended trip to Seattle and other points in Washington and are returning by way of Vancouver.

Janet Ireland is spending a two week vacation in Lethbridge and Climax, Sask. Mabel Hilliard is relieving for her at the hospital.

A farewell party honoring Miss Hazel McFarland was held at the home of Miss Gladys Leonard on Friday. A pleasant evening was spent in playing Chinese checkers and a few card games followed by a dainty lunch. Miss McFarland was presented with a fountain pen. She will leave Monday for Vegreville where she will enter the hospital for nursing training.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Monks and their daughter Norma spent the week-end in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mercer, Strathmore, were week-end guests at the home of Mrs. Mercer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Folk.

Using Soil Scientists
Some time ago, in this column, I suggested that the necessity of reducing wheat production provided an opportunity to encourage the adoption of soil conserving practices. This opportunity was missed largely because we allowed the bulk of our grass and clover seed to be exported. What about 1942? Perhaps we may be able to forget all about acreage reduction; but, if not, surely an effort should be made to see that the reduction is made in the interests of better farming. In northern wooded areas, yield and quality of wheat can be increased by the use of legumes plus artificial fertilizers. Grass could be used in the rotation with advantage to the wheat grower in many parts of the plains.

These problems differ greatly from one soil zone to another. In outlining an agricultural policy for 1942, all available technical information should be used. These ideas were embodied in a resolution introduced to the regional meeting of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists at Brandon, by the Agricultural Director of The North-West Line Elevators Association, and seconded by the President of the Manitoba Wheat Pool. It is certain that soil scientists, agronomists (a polite name for field husbandmen) and economists could offer much helpful advice, and so, also could many farmers. The resolution called for the appointment of a committee of such persons with special training, and this can surely be endorsed by all of us.

Farmers who have not previously sown grass or clover seed should consult the nearest experimental farm or district agriculturist.

We can grow more wheat and better wheat on fewer acres, if we follow the examples of our best farmers.

Experimental Farms

When land was new and wheat comparatively high in price, the practical farmer paid little attention to the scientific agriculture of the so-called white collar farmer. Now that we are being overrun by weeds, our soils suffering from erosion and wheat is in the doldrums, the importance of greater efficiency and regard for permanent fertility is accepted.

If all the knowledge accumulated at experimental farms could be applied to the farming industry, farmers would be much more prosperous and farms in much better condition to hand over to the next generation.

New and improved varieties are accepted readily. The wheat stem rust problem was solved almost overnight, not merely through the development of rust-resistant varieties, but because farmers accepted them.

Weed, soil drifting and water erosion problems could be solved in a similar manner if full use were made of information available at experimental farms and stations. The gap between agricultural knowledge and agricultural practice is far too great. Much is being done to reduce this gap by agricultural representatives and extension workers, but real progress depends upon the interest of the farmer himself.

A MESSAGE... To Alberta Farmers

The suggestion is offered to Alberta grain producers that wherever possible they should deliver their grain to Alberta Pool Elevators, thus strengthening and building up a purely co-operative organization owned and operated by Alberta farmers.

Alberta Pool Elevators has been singularly successful in developing on co-operative principles the largest grain handling organization in the province; establishing an equitable and fair standard of service for the benefit of all farmers; and in obtaining, in conjunction with its sister Pools in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, through constant contact and intercession with the government of Canada, a measure of price protection and other benefits for the farmers of the western provinces.

It is of the utmost importance at the present time that farmers should have a strong organization to speak for them. The greatest weakness of the farmers' position, from an economic standpoint, is individualism. Farmers must unite if they are to escape being completely submerged.

The Wheat Pool offers a natural rallying point for the farmers. Being founded on true co-operative principles, it is not concerned with politics, religion or national origins.

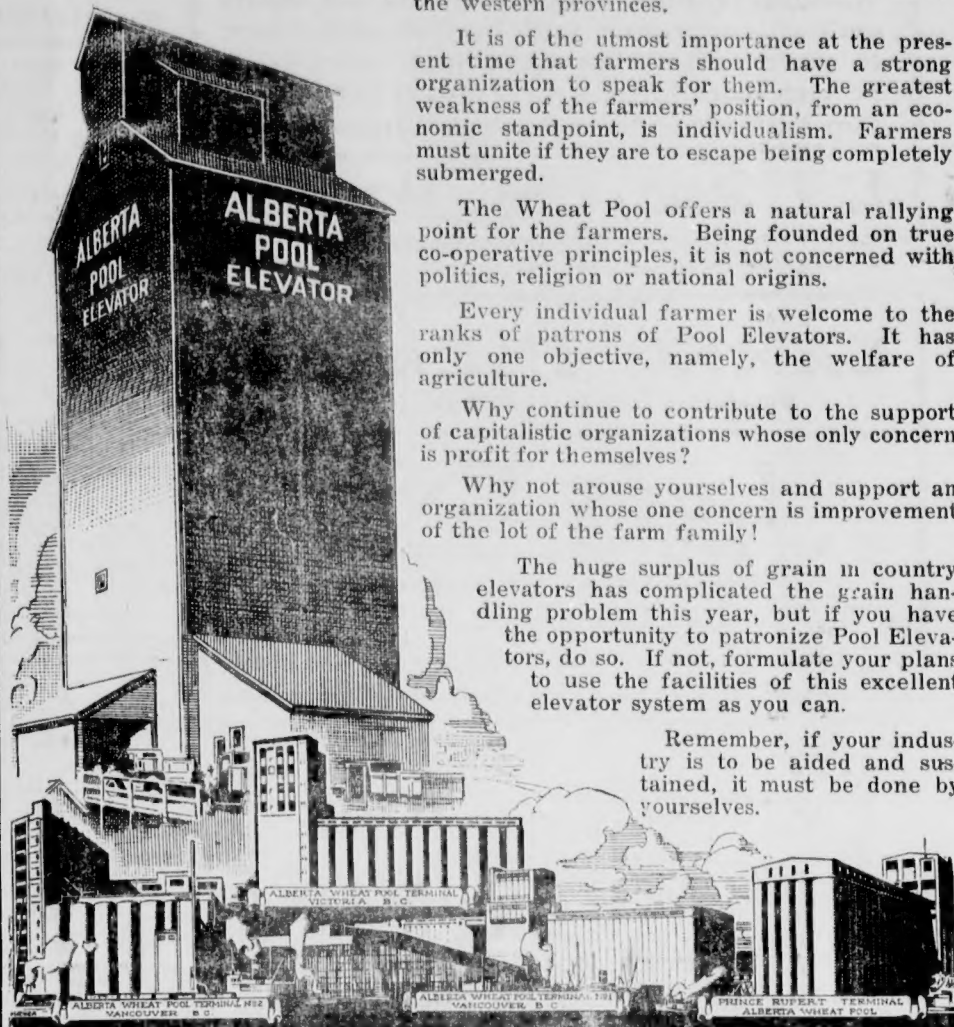

Every individual farmer is welcome to the ranks of patrons of Pool Elevators. It has only one objective, namely, the welfare of agriculture.

Why continue to contribute to the support of capitalistic organizations whose only concern is profit for themselves?

Why not arouse yourselves and support an organization whose one concern is improvement of the lot of the farm family?

The huge surplus of grain in country elevators has complicated the grain handling problem this year, but if you have the opportunity to patronize Pool Elevators, do so. If not, formulate your plans to use the facilities of this excellent elevator system as you can.

Remember, if your industry is to be aided and sustained, it must be done by yourselves.
